

Mrs. Atkins' Space Log

AUGUST

Bible Verse: Each quarter students will have a Bible verse to memorize. You can find Bible memory verses on the back of your space log each month.

Classroom Snapshot

I am so excited to be teaching fifth grade this year. It is a great transition year before entering middle school where students get to deepen their understanding of core mathematical concepts, read richer and more diverse texts, and gain more overall autonomy in their learning. Students will have the opportunity to think independently, using their knowledge and what they've learned to solve problems and make connections to new concepts. Along with academics, students will be learning how to go to God's word to seek and find answers to problems they face in every-day life. It's going to be an amazing year!

Space Logs

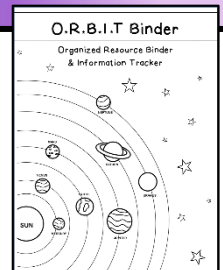

Space Logs (aka - newsletters) will come home at the beginning of each month and provide important information about what we are learning in class, upcoming projects, and more! Please make sure you read through the log with your child each month.

Satellite Day Success – O.R.B.I.T Binder

Your child's O.R.B.I.T Binder is full of important information for Satellite Days:

- Log-in Sheet: This is where you can find the log-in info for online learning sites.
- Homework Folder: This is where you will find all work for Satellite Days.
 - Return to School: This contains work your child needs to complete and return to school.
 - Keep at Home: This is where you will find Space Logs, graded work, and spelling lists.
- Project Folder: Any long-term projects, such as book reports, will be kept in this folder.
- Study Materials: Students will occasionally take notes on key terms or concepts that will be helpful when studying for a test. All of these items, including study guides, will be kept here.
 - * Additional lined paper will be kept in the back of the binder for use at home when needed. *
